Verbs of thought and speech. Pragmaticalization paths across languages
Salamanca, September 7-9 2022 — Programme

Wednesday September 7th — Morning
9:00-9:30	Inauguration
9:30-10:30	Keynote Heiko Narrog (U. of Tohoku)
10:30-11:00	Coffee break
1st panel Bridging the gap between speech and thought verbs
11:00-11:30	Modicom	First person vs. second person: A relevant factor in the pragmaticalization of verbs of speech and thought? A view from four Mainland Scandinavian languages
11:30-12:00	Remberger	SAY and THINK and WANT: Grammaticalisation and pragmaticalisation thought on a cognitive path
12:00-12:30	Graf	Discourse strategies as triggers for the pragmaticalization of verbs of thought and speech: Evidence from Slavic
2nd panel Contrastive views on speech verbs
12:30-13:00	Lansari	Say/dire as sources of discourse markers in English and French: diverging pragmaticalisation paths
13:00-13:30	Tsutahara & Nomura	A contrastive analysis of pragmaticalized "speech verb + adverb" constructions in Japanese, Spanish and English from a pedagogical perspective
13:30-14:00	Garzón & Verano	2nd person of verbs of speech: patterns of pragmaticalization in Ancient Greek and Latin?
14:00-16:00	Lunch break

Verbs of thought and speech. Pragmaticalization paths across languages
Salamanca, September 7-9 2022 — Programme

Wednesday September 7th — Afternoon
3rd panel: Contrastive views on cognitive verbs
16:00-16:30	Schneider	French 'imaginer' and Spanish 'imaginar'. Similarities and differences in their pragmatic development
16:30-17:00	Sanvido	The speaker and her utterance: links between modality and propositional attitude verbs in a French-Italian contrastive perspective
17:00-17:30	González & Pardal	Know, think and seem in ancient Greek and Latin: a comparative overview of pragmaticalization in ancient languages
17:30-18:00		Coffee break
4th panel: "Saying" as a source for pragmatic meaning (1)
18:00-18:30	Ramos Sañudo	Polifuncionalidad, (inter)subjetividad y gramaticalización del marcador discursivo 'digo'
18:30-19:00	Zeschel	German formulas with 'sagen' "say"
19:00-19:30	Vives & Madrigal	Pragmaticalization and intersubjectivity with verba dicendi in diachrony: the cases of 'λέγω/εῖπον' and 'φημί' in a corpus of postclassical Greek dialogues.

Verbs of thought and speech. Pragmaticalization paths across languages
Salamanca, September 7-9 2022 — Programme

Thursday September 8th
1st panel: Meaning change and pragmaticalization
9:00-9:30	Biasio	Self-Verifying Parentheticals, or When Performatives Undergo Pragmaticalization
9:30-10:00	La Roi	What you see is what you get: the interactional potential of visual perception verbs in Ancient Greek diachrony
10:00-10:30	Lacassain	Wonder: An instance of pragmaticalisation? From lexical cognitive senses to discursive strategies
10:30-11:00	Coffee break
2nd panel: Discourse markers
11:00-11:30	Popescu & Duță	Some Observations Concerning the Pragmaticalization Pathway of Speech Act Verbs as Discourse Markers in Romanian
11:30-12:00	Bozza	Discourse markers out of verbs of thought and speech in Moroccan Arabic
12:00-12:30	Lewis	English 'mind [you]': a diachronic study
12:30-13:30	Keynote Chiara Fedriani (U. of Genova)

Verbs of thought and speech. Pragmaticalization paths across languages
Salamanca, September 7-9 2022 — Programme

Friday September 9th — Morning
1st panel: "(Not) knowing" as a source for pragmatic meaning
9:00-9:30	Conte	Sulla pragmaticalizzazione in latino arcaico: il caso di scilicet in Plauto e Terenzio
9:30-10:00	Almossa	Grammaticalisation of 'MA: 2ADRI': "I don't know" in Arabic
10:00-10:30	Revuelta Puigdollers	'οἶδα' in Greek as a "parenthetical" verb
10:30-11:00	Coffee break
2nd panel: "Saying" as a source for pragmatic meaning (2)
11:00-11:30	Hernández García	Verba dicendi in Classical Greek: an analysis of the first-person singular
11:30-12:00	Nádraská	The functions of the Czech particle 'prý' seen through its English equivalents
12:00-12:30	Ruhrmann	A case study, so to speak – on some syntactic, functional, and phonetic properties of German 'sozusagen'
12:30-13:30	Keynote Concepción Company (UNAM)
13:30-16:00	Lunch break

Verbs of thought and speech. Pragmaticalization paths across languages
Salamanca, September 7-9 2022 — Programme

Friday September 9th — Afternoon
3rd panel: Hedges and mitigation
16:00-16:30	Duan	A contrastive approach to hedging in academic spoken discourse
16:30-17:00	Shefer	Hedging strategies: on the pragmaticalization of Hebrew 'say' expressions
17:00-17:30	De Rosa	The Italian 'credo'. An epistemic marker of mitigation and vagueness
17:30-18:00	Coffee break
4th panel: Pragmaticalization of thought verbs in discourse
18:00-18:30	Iglesias Iglesias	Procesos de pragmaticalización de verbos de pensamiento en dos construcciones fraseológicas del alemán
18:30-19:00	Battaglia	Evidential and epistemic functions between syntax and discourse: the pragmaticalization of verbs of thought in spoken Italian
19:00-19:30	Ortiz Ciscomani	Las formas 'sabrá', 'sabe', 'sepa' en la historia del español y su emergencia como marcador pragmático discursivo
19:30-19:40	Closure	